ABSTRACT

This manual provides a brief description of the procedures employed by the University of South Alabama in converting their library records from print to computerized cataloging. A description of the procedure is followed by detailed instructions and examples. Rules for NOTIS-LCCN Conversion Records, OCLC--Telex Transfer, and Conversion of Telex-Transferred Records are briefly presented. Sample forms for maintaining statistics, a key to color-coding signals in the shelf list, and examples of procedures for several different potential situations are outlined. (THC)

Retrospective Conversion: University Library

The procedure for the University Library conversion is similar to that used for conversion of Biomedical Library records. This is a brief description of the procedure. Examples with detailed instructions follow.

NOTIS-LCCN Conversion Records

1. Printed LC cards and any cards with LCCN's written on them will be searched in NOTIS. If a NOTIS record is found, the cataloging data on the card will be compared to the record. If major discrepancies are discovered, the card will be flagged.
2. If there is a match, or if only certain minor problems are present, the location and call number will be entered in the copy holdings record. The NOTIS number is to be written on the upper right hand corner of the card (or top center if right hand corner already has an LCCN written on it).
3. Cards with no match are not flagged because there will be more cards without an LC record than those with one.

OCLC--Telex Transfer

4. Persons transferring records from OCLC to NOTIS will search all cards which are not OCLC or NOTIS cards, or which do not have a NOTIS number written on them.
5. When the correct record is located on OCLC and transferred to NOTIS, the NOTIS number will be written in the upper left and corner of the shelf list card. If it must be written in another spot, "/OCLC" will be written following the NOTIS number (e.g., AAN0785/OCLC). This will indicate a record transferred from OCLC.
6. If no matching record is found in OCLC, a red clip will be placed on the card. The card will be searched again in OCLC by the recon librarian before the record is originally input into NOTIS and/or OCLC.

Conversion of Telex-Transferred Records

7. Records transferred from OCLC will be converted following a different procedure, as these records present different problems.

Retrospective Conversion: University Library

Plastic Signals in Shelf List

Blue--placed on card with most of entry in language other than English.

Brown--placed on card with copy 2, etc. which requires different cataloging record than data on card.
(card has "same" note)

Green--placed on card which may require treatment as serial.

Orange--placed on card to indicate name conflict in index.

Red--placed on card to indicate no matching OCLC record found, or doubtful OCLC match for cataloging data on card.

Yellow--placed on card to indicate discrepancies in cataloging on card and in bibliographic record, such as significant differences in subject headings; traced series is 490 in record; difference in series in 440 and traced series on card; discrepancies in publisher and date, etc.

NOTES FOR UNIVERSITY LIBRARY RECON EXAMPLES

Example 1.0 (AAH4991)

1.1 Bibliographic Record

- 1.1.1 LCCN in record matches LCCN on card(lower right hand corner).
- 1.1.2 Record lacks "ed." following author's name. If it had been there, it would have been deleted.
- 1.1.3 Notice that parentheses around "selections: Extracts, etc." had been marked out on the card. They were deleted from the record also.

1.2 Copy Holdings Record

- 1.2.1 Classification code is "L" for the University Library books to be converted to the online catalog.
- 1.2.2 Location is "main" unless card indicates differently.
- 1.2.3 Note that the decimal in .M65 is input. This will be the practice for all University Library call numbers.
- 1.2.4 "9699" is an accession number. Input in the copy level "NOTES" field.

1.3 Shelf List Card

Write the NOTIS number in the upper right hand corner of the card (or center if not possible to write in right hand corner).

Example 4.0 (AAH5391)

4.1 Bibliographic Record

4.1.1 The designation "ed." was deleted from the 100 field.

4.1.2 The first indicator in the 245 was changed to "1" so that the title would index, even though "Title" is not included in the tracings. In a catalog where all cards including subject added entries are inter-filed, an added entry for this title, which is the same as the subject, would not be needed. It is necessary to index this title in NOTIS, as subjects and titles are indexed separately.

4.1.3 The series is 490 0; no indication that the series is traced is found on the card, so no clip is placed on the card.

4.2 Copy Holdings Record

The two accession numbers on the card indicate that the Library has two copies. Both are assumed to be in "main".

Example 12.0 (AAD6801)

12.1 Bibliographic Record

12.1.1 Examine the bibliographic record carefully, especially the DT in the fixed field to determine whether the record should be considered part of recon.

12.1.2 For LC MARC records, the DT and NOTIS record numbers should be:

7/6/84	AAH4790 - AAH7140
9/21/84	AAH9316 - AAJ1564
12/19/84	AAJ4999 - AAJ8041
3/15/85	AAL0242 - AAL4249
3/21/85	AAL4433 - AAL7239
3/22/85	AAL7302 - AAM1614
3/26/85	AAM1670 - AAM5496
3/28/85	AAM5653 - AAM9059

12.1.3 Also carefully check the publisher and the date of publication (field 300, subfields b & c) in the record against the same data on the card. Do not modify or use the record if they don't agree. Check against list of LC MARC LCCN records above if in doubt. If there is still doubt, place a yellow clip on the card.

Example 14.0 (AAK3259)

14.1 Bibliographic Record

14.1.1 Use this example to decide whether to treat an item as single or multi-volume. Although this is a Biomedical Library record, the practice should be followed for University Library records as well.

14.1.2 When the bibliographic record in NOTIS indicates that the item is multi-volume (300 has v. or 3v., etc.), but the card indicates that the item is a single volume, accept the bibliographic record as correct.

14.1.3 Assume that the library has volume 1 if the date of publication on the card coincides with the beginning date in the record.

14.2 Copy Holdings Record

14.2.1 Copy status code is "2" for incomplete multi-volume item.

14.2.2 Subfield v is input with "v." as the designation.

14.2.3 A volume holdings record is created.

Example 15.0

When "same" along with a place, publisher and date is typed on an LC printed card, it may have two different meanings.

- 15.1 If there are 2 copies (Indicated by accession numbers or copy numbers typed on the left hand margin of the card), assume that the cataloging information on the card applies to the first copy and the typed note applies to the second copy. (see no. 2)
 - 15.1.1 If there is a MARC record which matches the printed card, use it for the first copy. Do not indicate that it is copy one (main/1) in the copy holdings record. Write the NOTIS number on the card and place a brown plastic clip in it.
 - 15.1.2 The persons transferring records from OCLC to NOTIS will search for the correct record for that edition and transfer it to NOTIS when found. Leave the brown clip on the card until all work is completed.
- 15.2 When only one accession number is typed on the card, assume that the publisher is the one listed in the typed note. Place a yellow clip on the card and write the NOTIS number on it.
